

2010 Forestry CDE Interview Topic

Silvicultural practices are often applied to improve habitat for wildlife. You are managing for a species that is dependent on open areas for nesting, feeds long edges, and uses woody cover for rearing its young. Please discuss:

- How you might manage for this species
- What practices you might employ
- Any other information or improvements you would consider for management.